

Industry Workshops 2010/11

“Be a Winner – Climate Change, Turning Crisis into Opportunity”

The Queensland Seafood Industry Association (QSIA) and Seafood Industry Victoria have hosted 1-day workshops run by Environment Australia (a consulting company).

Seven additional workshops will be held across Australia. The QSIA will liaise with peak bodies to deliver workshops to industry between July 2010 and June 2011.

Why Attend

The impacts of climate change on the small business community and business planning are unclear. How industry sees the issue and how climate change might impact our industry is not fully understood. Your involvement is important and as a business owner you can help shape our response to the issue.

Session Structure: 9.00am-3.00pm

Session	Content
Morning	Discussion and Feedback <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• What do you know about the Climate Change Issue?</li><li>• Where do you get your information?</li><li>• How reliable is the source?</li></ul>
Mid-morning	You and Your Business <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• How do you believe that the climate change issues affect your business from the following points of view: (a) social, (b) economic and (c) environmental?</li></ul>
Early afternoon	Opportunities <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• What are the opportunities?</li><li>• What do you need to make these opportunities a reality?</li></ul>

Assistance for Attendees and Registration

The QSIA can offer some assistance with attending the workshop. To register your interest in attending please contact Eric Perez, QSIA Manager - Climate Change, Fisheries and Industry Development, phone (07) 3262 6855, mobile: 0414 841 532, email: eperez@qsia.com.au.